Orangutech and Kognitiv Spark Announce Partnership Delivering Mixed Reality Solutions to the Canadian Government

Ottawa, ON – Orangutech is pleased to announce that we have officially partnered with Kognitiv Spark, an industrial mixed reality solution company based out of New Brunswick.

“Our partnership with Orangutech is highly important to us,” said Duncan McSporrán, Chief Operations Officer, and VP of Defence and Public Sector at Kognitiv Spark. “As a Canadian organisation, having the team at Orangutech as a trusted and highly agile partner for delivery of our capability to customers in the Government of Canada, is a fundamental foundation stone of our business.”

This partnership will offer departments within the Government of Canada enhanced technological capabilities through Kognitiv Spark’s flagship product, RemoteSpark. RemoteSpark delivers a unique solution leveraging holographic mixed reality content to train and support workers in the field so they are thoroughly prepared to complete complex tasks in highly remote or hazardous environments.

“We are looking forward to working with the talented team at Kognitiv Spark to deliver new and transformative technology that propels the modern workplace as forward while also improving key business process flows at the Government of Canada through the use of Mixed Reality technologies” said Lachlan Henderson, GM of Orangutech.

The addition of Kognitiv Spark as a strategic partner bolsters Orangutech’s commitment toward serving the Government of Canada by continuing to diversify our service offerings with the intention of providing modernized solutions that accelerate issue resolution, increase collaboration, and improve efficiency.

About Kognitiv Spark

Kognitiv Spark is a Fredericton, New Brunswick-based tech company and Microsoft MRPP gold partner recognized for its competency in the secure, reliable, and network agnostic applications of Mixed Reality for remote support. Its flagship product, RemoteSpark is an industrial-grade platform that allows a remote worker to establish a low-bandwidth, secure audio-video call with a subject matter expert when they need help solving a complex problem. RemoteSpark can facilitate the transfer of photos, files (PDFs, Microsoft Office documents), and multi-step animated holograms. The tech company was founded in 2016 and supports a global footprint of clients and partners operating in manufacturing, energy, defence, public-sector, marine and other industrial sectors.
